

Baby & Me

A unique programme for toddlers and parents

The early years are vital for a young child's development. During these years, the child is learning to learn. By the time a child enters school, a lot of learning has already taken place with the parent as the teacher. A parent's interest and interaction can stimulate a young child's mind and influence a lifetime of learning ability.

Keeping this in mind, Stepping Stones International, which has a decade of experience in preschool, has designed an exclusive program for you and your little one - Baby and Me!

Baby and Me is designed to introduce children to their first experiences in a structured environment. It provides an atmosphere where the child is comfortable trying new skills with the parent close by.

Give your child your undivided attention for 90 minutes and have fun!
